Plumb dining table

 designed by
Patryk Koca

Our objective in making this table:

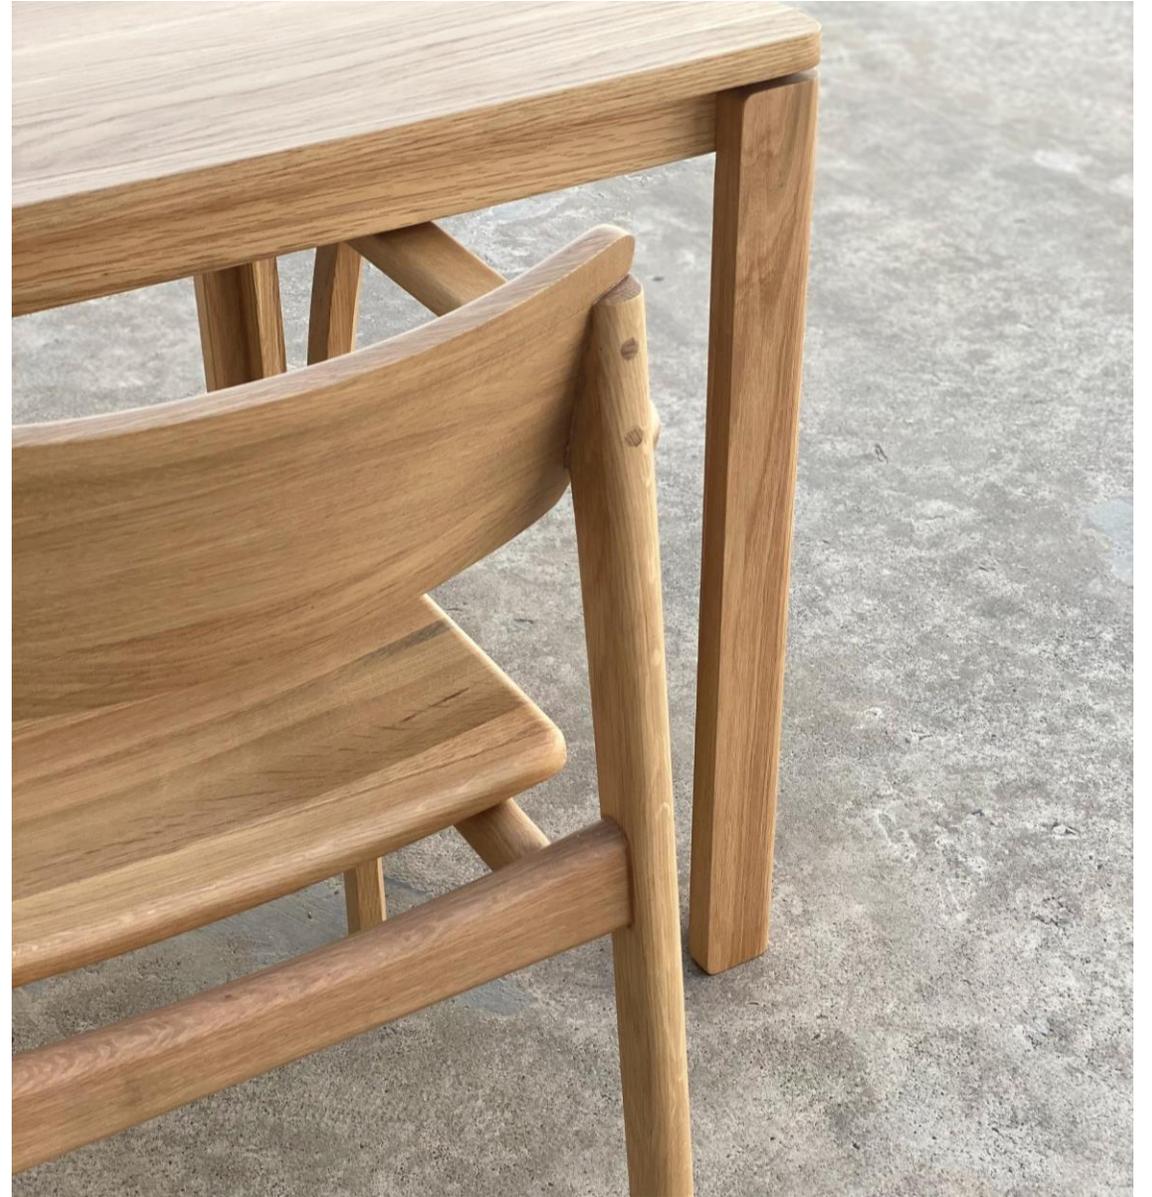

We wanted a strong, sensible, basic table that would adapt well to a wide variety of visual styles, and scale well to any size. Something straightforward but not plain, using only subtle details, allowing the purity of form and quality of materials to do the talking.

Straight from the designer's mouth:

“Its all about geometry - I think this design is an exercise in distilling the essence of good proportions, honest construction and extracting depth through layering and shadow. It is an essential and iconic form that relies on Plumb straight edges and subtle rounds to give it a strong yet inviting stance.”
